The New York Tribune publishes part of a letter written by a soldier to the Cincinnati Commercial, and adds the comments of the Pittsburg Gazette, thus:

"The conduct of Buell, in suffering Col. Wilder to be overpowered and compelled to surrender, was quite as cowardly or treachcrous (his friends, if he has any, may choose either term) as was the recent surrender of Harper's Ferry. The account given by the private soldier is in all essential particulars in agreement with other accounts, including that of Colonel Wilder

"Bragg's expedition, from Alabama al most to the Ohio river, was not a campaign, but a raid. lie did not come to fight, but to forage; yet he drove Buell, with his immense army, before him 200 miles, without a gun being fired on either side. What intense contempt the rebels must feel for such an army! and how will such warfare appear in the eyes of the people of Europe, where the mysterious power of pro-slavery ism is not understood? The men who fought at Donelson and Shiloh will be stigmatized as poliroons, and all because of the atrocious conduct of one man; and yet that man has not been removed. Truly a West Point diploma can cover more sins than even charity itself.'

With a disgusting class of scribblers, it a man fights a battle and loses it, the negro is the cause; if he doesn't fight, it's the negro again. Buell, like McClellan, has said nothing; he has made no explanations; and his enemies have said as much as if they knew a great deal. We shall say nothing about Buell's operations in Tennessee, because we have not the facts or the reason for them; except, we may add, that Buell, whilst he had a fine army, had all the corners to watch, and they were numerous. His militury superiors are, no doubt, well informed on the subject, and understand all about it. They know what Buell did, and his reasons for it, and, we presume, are eatisfied with it.

If the Gazette will ask Colonel Wilder he will hear why Buell could not get safely to his relief. It is utterly false that the Colonel's account reflects at all on General Buell. Only a part of Buell's army could possibly have reached Munfordville la time. They were not enough to meet the whole force of Bragg massed at Munford-

Reason and argument, we must fairly admlt, between the two belligerent parties in the present contest have come to an end. What political messures either adopts, outalde of one question, are of very little lmaround for doubtful expedients, will, most turned to this side of the river. certainly, bs to that extent weakened. measures the cause is irretrievably lost, and if they are wrong in themselves, they are wholly without justification.

Upon this ground we wholly condemn Mr. Lincoln's proclamation. In no possible condition of affairs do we consider it justifiable. It is a revolutionary measure, repugnant to the spirit and letter of the law and the principles of our people.

But aside from this it is objectionable. In the first place, upon its face it is unnecessary. Where the army is there is no need of it, and where the army is not it cannot be carried into effect. As to any necessity for it we consider the question absurd. By a draft the Government can get any force It asks, and It has already been compelled to resort to a draft. It was a tub, beyond a doubt, thrown to the Abolition whale, though an empty tub. If the object had been to induce that party which has stayed at home, speculated in contracts and blustered in Congress, to volunteer, the draft had already made their voluntary action

The evil to be feared from it is that it is different from the original programme of the war and is calculated to produce dissensions. The recent calm, advisory address of Gen. McCleilan shows that it has already resulted in discussions in the army of the Potomac, and doubtless It has produced the same effect in other quarters. While we hope and believe that these discussions will not result in any serious injury, yet the very fact of McClellan's of his design. The enemy fired a volley as order shows an apprehension on his part the skirmishers, who by that time had formed that it may do harm.

Unity in action and polloy is absolutely essential to success in military officers. When there are questions upon which there to camp. Upon the approach of our main is serious disagreement, it ls best to walve or ignore them altogether, and unite upon what all can unite upon.

to the fighting force of the Confederacy, which he estimates at present to be about 400,000 effective men. The available troops in and about Sa vaunah at the time he left he thinks did not exceed 3,000, but it was currently reported that the Confederate Governmen were about to station 40,000 soldlers in the city. Gen. Beauregard arrived at Savannah on the 18th of September, and formally took command of the defense of that city and Charleston on the 19th. Gen, Pomberton, who was previously in command at Savannah, was ordered to Richmand. Great preparations have been made and are now n progress for the defense of Savannah and Mr. Spencer thinks if an attempt ls made to capture the city by land it will require a strong force. With reference to the obstructions in the river, the Savannah people consider them impassable, but the United States officers at ort Royal and Fort Pulaski informed Mr. Spencer that they could easily be removed whenever the Government saw fit to commence operations against the city.

The feeling of the citizens of Savannah, with reference to the rebellion, Mr. Spencer represents as being nearly unanimous in favor of continuing the course they have begun, and of never yielding until they have gained their independence. Many of them openly declare that they would prefer becoming the subjects of a to a reunion with the National Government. The condition of the rebel army is one of great destitution. In addition to their want of clothing, they are now living ou half rations. Charles J. Faulkner is visiting the camps and making speeches to sustain Strong efforts are being made by certain citizens of Minnesota for the appointment of Senator Rice as Major General of Volunteers, and the assignment to him of the Department now occupied by Major General Pope. The gunboats "Wissahickon" and "Stars and Stripes," having been overhauled and refitted, will sail this morning, the former for Port Royal, S. C., and the latter for Key West, Fla. The Wissahickon came to this port from New Orleans, after doing good service on the Mississippi river, and in the taking of New Orleans. She was yesterday moved a little from her position in order to facilitate the hoisting of her armament ashore, after which she will go upon the dock.

The U. S. steamer Jamestown will probably sail on Saturday next; heremali stores being now taken aboard. Some of her guns were taken out and their places supplied with others of larger caliber; all necessary repairs have been made, and she now lies n the stream opposite Washington street. The transport Keystone State was taken off the dock yesterday morning. The necessary repairs were not extensive, consisting merely in the replacement of portions of her coppering, and the repairing of hat part of the keel known as the "shoe. The gunboat Daylight (16 guns) will probably go on the dock after the Augusta nus been repaired. This vessel recently broke har shaft, after leaving New York and put into this port in distress. THE "MONITOR."-The Philadelphia Press

"The reasons why the Monitor is now as Washington are as follows: During her last engagement with the Merrimac, in moving about, she broke some of her propelling machinery, which was only temporarily repaired at Fortress Monroe, in order that she might accompany the Galena and Naugatuck up the James river. Her ventilation is not as good as it should be, and the vessel wants unishing in some parts. The "Monitor" has been under steam and on duty incessantly for more than six months. and the "wear and tent' of her inner works has been considerable. A shot from the Merrimac, an "ll-inch solid Dahlgren," knocked off a portion of the edge plating near the bow. She greatly needs cleaning and oiling up in every part, and in view of all this, and the fact that the Young Merrimas is not coming down from Richmond for some time to come, the Monitor has come to Washington to rest her officers and crew, and obtain some repairs. The turret of the Monitor was severely tested by the Merrimac and the guns at Drury's Bluff, but she seems to be perfectly invulnerable to any ordnance now used by mankind."

Good for Gen. Dumont,

A private telegraphic dispatch was received yesterday from Bagdad, to the effect that Gen. Dumont's forces had attacked Scott's rebel cavalry, in Frankfort, their whole force before night.

ALMOST A FATAL MISTAKE .- On Tuesday night Captain Voorhies, with his construction train, arrived at Bagdad, having on board one company of infantry. A report reached Shelbyvilie the same night to the effect that a lot of rebels had possession of the train, when three companies of cavalry, from General Dumont's division, were sent over, and reached the piace about three o'clock Wednesday morning. They immediately fired on the infantry pickets, when some fifteen or twenty shots were exchanged on both sides before the mistake was discovered. Fortunately, no one was capes from the balis that flew thick and fast. The Captain, Mr. Rogers and Mr. Vice, who were on the engine, made very narrow escapes from being shot. The matter was explained, and quict was soon restored. The cavalry returned to their com-

Taylor, the old and efficient conductor, we learn the following particulars concerning the re-occupation of Frankfort, by our forces: Day before yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, the rebel pickets, of Scott's cavalry, made their appearance, in small squads, around the town, peeping over stone fences, hiding behind trees, and creeping up slowiy until they finally ventured to enter the place. A Brisk Fight at Perryville.

Bragg's Army Repulsed by McCook and Rousseau.

Our Loss 2,000 Killed and Wounded

General James S. Jackson Killed.

From dispatches received in the city las night, we have news, this morning, of considerable importance-news of heavy fighting, and of large numbers killed and wounded. Day before yesterday, near Perryville, Boyle county, Bragg's entire force, or nearly so, made a furious attack upon a portion of McCook's command and Rousseau's (late Mitchell's) division. For some hours the fighting was desperate in the extreme, on both sides-for a portion of the time it was a hand-to-hand encounter. Bragg's forces, as nearly . his entire army was in the field, were superior in number to ours, but, notwithstanding this advantage, the rebels were repulsed with terrible and trimmings, in great variety. slaughter. The rebel iosses had not been ascertained at the time this news was forwarded from the battle-field, but it was known to be much heavier than onre. Some of the best served batteries in the army are in McCook's corps, and Rousseau's overcoats, negligie shirts, gauntlets, underdivision. Our losses are stated as high as wear, &c., for sale very low. Also usual 2,000 in killed and wounded. Amongst stock the bravest and most determined fighters in the army. Among the wounded is Gen.

Terrell, of Va., formerly in command of Terrell's battery, but Terrell's battery, but now commanding a brigade of infantry; also, Col. George Webster, of the 98th Ohio, in command of of Michigan. The firing ceased about 7 o'clock in the evening, but was expected to he resumed again yesterday morning, unless Bragg should take advantage of the darkness to escape from the perilous position he occupied. McCook was heavily reinforced Wed-divisions coming up. Bragg's position is said to have been north of Perryville, and the dispatches received lifeless by the powerful smells? Want of indicate the determination on the part of Gen. Buell to renew the fight on yesterday morning, with greatly increased forces, and make it a general engagement.

As Perryville is some thirty-four or thirty-five miles from Bardstown, the nearest telegraphic station, news of yesterday's transactions will reach us sometime to-day. We have no doubt that Bragg would make an effort in the hight to escape from the net which was closing around him, but if he did, his escape would be stopped before reaching Crab Orchard-perhaps at Stanford. We confidently expect to-day to hear good news.

The news from Frankfort is to the effect that General Dumont arrived from Shelbyville, at three o'clock, yesterday morning, surprised the rebel forces, by making such fifteen wounded, and several of their wounded were carried away in the dark. six hundred cavalry, and two regiments of infantry. They were driven out of the town, and General Dumont, at last accounts was in hot pursuit.

THE CONCERT .- There was a very large and fashionable audience at Masonic Temple last night. At first the audience was rather cold and nnsympathetic, but as the beauties of the programme were opened out, and the unmistakable abilities of the Misses De Roode made themselves manifest, the audience warmed up more and more, tili before the close of the concert there was almost enthusiasm in the applause bestowed. This we consider the strongest evidence of the superior talents of these young ladies, that an audience, almost utter strangers, cold and unsympathetic, should be warmed into enthusiasm in the course of a short concert, Is, we take it, an undeniable and powerful tribute of appreciation. The singing of Miss Maria was not only truly artistic, but as too seldom is the fact, was in exquisite taste, full of beauty and freshness. Miss Eugenie's performances on the piano were worthy of the first masters, and stamped her in the estimation of her audience, as one of the finest artistes of the age. Messrs. Zoller, Whipple, and Boutwell fully sustained the reputation they have already

BRANCH OFFICE NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

No. 428 Main st., bet. Bullitt & Fifth sts NEW YORK LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY, Nos. 112 and 114 Broadway, N. Y. (ESTABLISHED IN 1815.)

Ten Year Plan-Non-Forfeiture (Originated by this Company.)

THIS IS A PURELY MUTUAL COMPANY, ALL

The NEW YORK LIPE INSURANCE COMPANY has been The New York LEFF INSTRANCE COMPANY has been now in operation sevenateen years, and has accumulated a capital of $2,200,000. Its dividends thate neverbeen less than 30 per cent, on the preminus paid, and it has disbursed to widows and orphans over $2,20,000. It has deposited with the Comphans over $2,20,000. It has deposited with the Comphans over $2,20,000. It has deposited with the Comphans over $1,00,000, and its Trustees in New York city are of the very first and reliable names. The affairs of the Company show a lively property, ond each successive year, this great acciety, after disbursing some Two to Three Hundred stockers, after disbursing some Two to Three Hundred thousands of boliars, are adding to their Capital the Rie amount.

In accordence with the requirements of the charter, the funds of the company are invested in slocks created by or under the laws of the State of New York, or of the United States, or on unincumbered Redi Estate, worth first per court more than the amount loaned thereon.

worth fifty her cent. more than the amount loaned thereon.

TEN YEAR PLAN-NON-YOEFNITURE-Originated by the New York Live Instrument Company. By the table on which this class of policies is based, it would seem that a person incars no risk in taking out a policy. Insuring to-day for $0,00 if he dies to-moorrow the five thousand immediately becomes a claim, and if he lives ten years, and makes ten annual payments, his policy is paid up; nothing more to pay, and still his dividends continne, making his life policy a source of income to him white living. The principal argument of weight offered against life haurance his that a party might pay in for a unuber of years, and then by inadvarience, inability, dc., not be able to continue paying, and then loose all he has paid. The New York Life Insurance Company has done much to obviate this objection by the Ten Year Plan and Non-Forfsitter. A party by this table, cannot forfsit what has been paid in. Thus, if one insuring by this plan for $0,000 discontinues after the second year, the company will give him a paid up policy, according to the number of years paid in, viz.

Second year, two-tenths of amount insured.....$1,000

And so on to the tenth payment, when all is paid and LOCAL REFERENCES.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. Capt. F. G. Young, direct from Richmond, arrived to-day, having left there Tuesday, by a flag of truce, down the James river. He, with Maj. Barney, of New York, was captured on the 21st of September, while on a horseback tour in the vicinity of Buli Run, by the Thirtieth Virginia cavairy, under Col. Sebanks, a graduate of West Point

The prisoners spent four days pleasantly on the way to Richmond, and were treated kindly and hospitably by their captors, and by all whom they met on their route. The cavalry rigiment of Col. Chambers was handsomely mounted and uniformed, and fully equipped. There appeared to be plenty of sall, flour, fresh beef, and shoes among the soldiers; and good discipline prevailed. They treated each other great kindness and courtesy. No whisky drinking or card playing. Much comment is made by the rebel troops as to the careless manner in which our dead were buried on the plains of Manasses All the rebe soldiers denounce General Pope, but speak in the m the most complimentary terms of

The country districts are exhausted of food for man and beast, and in consequence apprehension exists of great distress among the people. During the coming winter every body has plenty of paper money of all descriptions and denominations.

The treatment of Federal prisoners, the Sibley prison, has been changed for for the better and those confined with Capt. Young, had no cause to complain—he with thirty others were put in a large room and were attended by the guards and servants with marked kindness—rations were served regularly and a sutler constantly present. He has been asieft Richmond Tuesday morning. The rebel troops are rapidly receiving their new uniforms, consisting of darkgray jacket and light-blue pants.

There is no lack of arms, and they have more cannon than can be used. The general impression among them is that the war will not end until the expiration of Lincoln's term of service. Everybody, however, is sick of hos-tilities, and the troops desire to return to their homes, yet one constantly hears the remark, "You may exterminate us, but you cannot subjugate us."

The new Merrimac is not yet finished. Eight dollars per bushel was asked for Officers' Dress and Fatigue Suits bronght one dollar per pound each. There is little or no molasses. Tln drinking cups sold for 75 cents each, and all other neces-Maj. Barney is still detained at the Libby

The Army and Navy Gazette says the Confederate Invasion of Maryland, if latest telegrams provs true, has proved a failure. Pope's army was badly beaten, but not placed hors du combat. McClelian has showed a decided flash of soldier-like apirit in marching resolutely upon the lines of retreat open to the Confederates.

The Times insinuates that McClellan's reports may have been cooked at Washing. ion. Other announcements of decided success have ultimately proved incorrect, and Europe has been driven into incredulity or reservation of its belief; at any rate, it argues, victorles in the field, without change of policy, will be very barren success.

The gunboats Daniel Jones, Cymerone, Sihago and others, under Commander Steadman, were then preparing for an sxepedition up the St. Johns river to recapture Jacksonville. A land force of 1,500 men, with a field battery of rified guns was to take part. The enemy had constructed fortifications on St. John's Bluff, fifty or or sixty feet high, under which our gunboats have to pass. THESE SEWING MACHINES COMBINE THE most recent improvements, are userly noisoless when in operation, run with the greatest case and rapidity, and are better adapted for general purposes and family use than any other. They are not liable to get out of order, are exceedingly simple, and are made expressly for real practical utility; they do every variety of sewing, from the finest woven tissue to the bearlest woolen ground, both tailoring and fine leather wirk. Any person may learn to operate them in a very short time. time.
The great difficulty with all other old-style Machine is tree much compilication, requiring so such constant adjustment, and such an amount of mechanical skil and ingenuity to use them to advantage, as to reade them of little comparative value.

But the Sewing Machines manufacoured by Greenman & True are not liable to these objections, as an acron, on even a mount's examination, will results. can & True are not liable to these objections, as any true, on even a moment's examination, will readily scover. They will do more and better work than any her Machine ever offered to the public, making the cost beautiful leak-efitch, alike on both sides. Soud or an off-hand specimen of sewing upon any material as wish, and you will then see How it is done.
